Excellence is a Habit!

A MESSAGE FROM WILLIAM V. DAY

You and I are creatures of habit and if you make good habits...good habits will make you. This wisdom has been around since ancient times. Aristotle once said: "We are what we repeatedly do. Excellence, then, is not an act but a habit."

The subconscious mind – the habitual mind – is over one million times more powerful than the conscious mind. This means that we spend a substantial amount of our lifetime on "autopilot," playing out the mental programs that govern our behavior.

For example, while driving a car and carrying on a conversation with someone, the conscious mind is attending to what is being said. Meanwhile, the subconscious mind is turning on the turn signal. Hitting the brakes. Attending to oncoming traffic. Monitoring our blood sugar. Regulating our breathing. Planning our next move and on and on.

The subconscious mind is so vast and so powerful that we do not even know what it is thinking or capable of. It truly runs our lives – whether we know it or not! Habits begin and manifest deep in the mind and they can be friends or foes. Good habits can make our lives easier, helping us to do the more mundane things of life without thinking about them. Such as automatically depositing your paycheck.

But, as all of us know all too well, habits can also be destructive... to our health, to our finances, to our relationships. It's why we struggle with losing weight, paying off our credit cards or quitting smoking...to name a few "bad habits."

Whether they are positive forces in our lives or obstacles to the goals we want to achieve, habits become ingrained through repeated actions.

Here is a little test to display the power of our habits. Cross your arms as you normally would, and look down to see which one is on top. About half of you will have your right arm on top and the other half will have the left on top.

When you crossed your arms for the very first time, you might have been still in your playpen, and you have been crossing your arms the same way ever since.

Now, cross your arms again, but this time put the opposite arm on top. It feels extremely weird! If you were to challenge yourself to cross your arms the "wrong" way for the rest of your life, could you do it? Probably. Would it be difficult? You bet it would!

The real key to success is replacing destructive habits with successful habits.

To win – to break self-defeating attitudes and behaviors – we must understand that we have the power to choose and the power to change. We have the power to let go of old thinking and adopt the mindset of a champion. And God is the all-time champion!

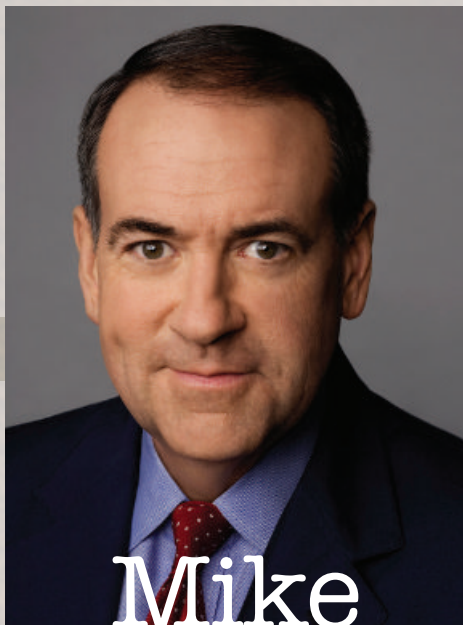

God bless,
WVD

FATHER SAVES FAMILY FROM FIRE,

Rehabs at Valencia

In one smoke-filled moment, 34-year-old Eric Rudich's life completely changed.

On Nov. 10, 2013, fire consumed the Rudich apartment in Ambridge, PA. Trapped on the third floor, Eric helped his wife, Spring, and four year old son, Isaiah, leap to safety. A neighbor caught his son, and his wife landed on a mattress the neighbor pushed beneath the window. Isaiah suffered smoke inhalation while Spring sustained fractured ribs, pelvis and hip as well as smoke inhalation. Both are now recovered.

Blinded by thick, black smoke, Eric missed the mattress and landed on the ground, feet first. Eric's pelvis, ribs and lumbar spine were fractured, and the intense smoke sent him into respiratory distress, requiring him to be intubated and trached. Hospitalized for over a month in the Mercy Hospital burn unit, Eric needed intense rehabilitation. St. Barnabas took over his recovery on Dec. 19, 2013.

Eric was admitted to Valencia Woods at St. Barnabas with a pelvic halo – fashioned with two to eight inch metal rods – to stabilize his pelvis while the bones healed. He was non-weight bearing, so his therapy was adapted to meet this restriction. Eric's daily rehab consisted of physical, occupational and speech therapy as well as constant nursing care for his pelvic halo.

Meanwhile, Eric's young family are living with his parents, Charles and Shelda Rudich, in Economy Borough. The family visit as often as they can, and occasionally, Eric's co-workers at Giant Eagle in Cranberry check in with him.

Physical therapist Cory Meeker reports that Eric has gradually progressed to mild weight-bearing exercises, although he has no use of his right leg and foot. Ahead of Eric looms additional spinal surgeries to repair lumbar fractures.

Eric's spirits go up and down, according to his Dad. On a snowy Sunday in February, they soared as the whole family celebrated Isaiah's fifth birthday with Eric at Valencia Woods.

"Eric has a long way to go," his father said, "but the Valencia Woods staff is with him every step of the way. They are great!" 🏠

Eric Rudich is just one of thousands of patients St. Barnabas has cared for over its 114 years of service, regardless of a patient's ability to pay for that care. Last year, St. Barnabas' charity care totaled $6,013,000. Your gift to St. Barnabas will underwrite a portion of this care.

Kean Quest Finals Feature Jackie Evancho

Four talented young vocalists received the coveted Kean Quest awards, including one presented by 14-year-old Jackie Evancho, at St. Barnabas Charities' 11th annual Kean Quest Talent Competition on April 11, 2014. (Winners are listed on www.keantheatre.com.)

The teenage national singing sensation, made famous by her 2010 performance on NBC's America's Got Talent, is a neighbor of St. Barnabas and a two-time finalist in the Kean Quest talent search. She presents the "Jackie Evancho Award" each year to the finalist, who, like her, competed in two or more Kean Quests.

Kean Quest is held in St. Barnabas' Kean Theatre and benefits the St. Barnabas Free Care Fund, helping nursing and living assistance patients receive charity care at five St. Barnabas health care facilities. In Kean Quest, nine rounds rally contestants, 188 this year, to compete for a host of prizes including a personal recording session. The finals were to be held Friday, April 11. The adult finals took place one week prior.

Contestants generate dollars for the Free Care Fund with their entry fees and by selling tickets to performances. The Audience Choice Award adds incentive for performers to fill seats with supportive...and voting...friends and family.

Jackie Evancho, a Kean Quest judge, presenter and finalist, will bestow the award in her name. Last year, she gave it to Paige Hurbanek (r) at the finals emceed by Ched Mertz, (l) of the Entertainers.

Half Million Gifts in Thirty Years

Pennsylvania Governor Tom Corbett and first lady Susan gave the 14,406th gift of PRESENTS FOR PATIENTS® 30th season to St. Barnabas Nursing Home patient Donnie Hersh. Since 1984 the St. Barnabas Charities' five-state program has matched 505,579 nursing and living assistance patients with Christmas presents. Governor and Mrs. Corbett served as Honorary Chairpersons for the 2013 campaign.

The 30th campaign succeeded with such an impressive goal because of the generosity and talents of PRESENTS FOR PATIENTS® partner WPXI-TV, corporate sponsors TRIB Total Media, Paracca Interiors and Diamond Pharmacy Services, 52 businesses, as well as 981 volunteer hours and the support of individual donors and gift givers. Many donated $30 or more so that patients could receive a "Somebody at PRESENTS FOR PATIENTS® Loves Me" sweatshirt. For the last four years, Presque Isle Downs and Casino has contributed $81,970 to the program.

Direct Public Support

Across the U.S. and in several foreign nations, men, women, school children, businesses and service groups, as well as St. Barnabas employees and Auxiliary members, donate pennies, dollars, stocks, real estate and legacy gifts to help St. Barnabas meet the increasing demand for low-cost or no-cost skilled nursing and living assistance care.

Family Homestead Donated to St. Barnabas

Rudy and Judi Hoffmann of Gibsonia are truly good neighbors. They recently donated the Penn Hills home Rudy grew up in to St. Barnabas. Rudy modestly calls the gift a win-win for St. Barnabas and the Hoffmanns.

“It supports the St. Barnabas Mission of free care and I do not have the hassle of selling the home,” he confides.

But there is a deeper motivation for Rudy.

Rudy’s father, Rudy Sr., died in 2003. Years before that, Rudy was his father’s daytime caregiver, traveling every day from Gibsonia to Penn Hills after working the night shift as a custodian for the Pine-Richland School District.

“I know first-hand the amount of time and dedication required in taking care of a person, so I can truly appreciate the work of St. Barnabas,” Rudy explained.

“It had been ten years since my father’s death, time to make a decision about the family home. Our children were not interested in living there. Shawn and his wife Becky live in Gibsonia; David lives in West Deer, and Sarah lives at home.”

The Hoffmanns have been more than neighbors of St. Barnabas for 40 years, using the St. Barnabas Medical Center’s dental services and attending Kean Theatre performances. Their daughter Sarah, who just graduated from La Roche College, still plays piano for the St. Barnabas Nursing Home patients.

“Judi and I could not think of a better use for the family home than to gift it to St. Barnabas, the best neighbor ever.” 🏠

You, too, can support St. Barnabas Free Care Fund with a non-traditional donation like the Hoffmanns. St. Barnabas Charities accepts stock, real estate and automobiles. Furniture and estate household items will be picked up by the Beautiful Buys thrift shoppes and sold to benefit needy patients at St. Barnabas’ skilled nursing and living assistance facilities.

Memory

A frail 84-year-old woman left the United States in 2012 to return to her native Germany, seeking to live out her last years in her beloved Berlin.

Germany would not accept her. She had no means of support. She had forfeited her German citizenship when she married an American G.I. and became a U.S. citizen in 1958. The American Embassy in Berlin arranged for her return to the U.S. She had no family, no friends, nowhere to live. Until St. Barnabas entered the picture.

With the help of a Benedictine sister, she was admitted to The Arbors at St. Barnabas in Valencia on May 10, 2012.

St. Barnabas accepted responsibility for her care – medically, emotionally and financially.

Late in January of this year, she was hospitalized and diagnosed with cancer. She had a large mass in her neck and chest. She was dying. On Feb. 3, 2014, she was admitted to St. Barnabas' Hospice Program, so that she could be kept comfortable and as free from pain as possible in the Arbors room that had become her home, decorated with stuffed animals and her crochet work.

On March 20, 2014, she died. She was 86 years old. Her St. Barnabas family took care of all the arrangements: paid the funeral director, chose the service, and provided the casket and the plot of land in Mars Cemetery where she is buried.

The G.I. bride was just 26 years old when she married her American serviceman. They started their married life in Beaver County, living in Rochester, PA. She became a real estate agent, licensed to sell residential and commercial property in Pennsylvania and West Virginia. Unfortunately, the marriage did not last. They divorced and went their separate ways. Her life after that was troubled. She even served time in prison. Her attempt to return to Germany and happier times failed, but did bring her to St. Barnabas and sanctuary.

Thank God for St. Barnabas and the generous donors from all over the United States and abroad who contribute to the St. Barnabas Free Care Fund. Because of them, she died with dignity, surrounded by the St. Barnabas staff who had become her family.

The St. Barnabas Free Care Fund makes it possible for patients like this to receive the best of medical care in a warm, caring environment regardless of their ability to pay for that care. Last year, more than $6 million in free care was provided by St. Barnabas to patients in need and in pain.

Please join us in remembering all such lonely patients by sending a donation in her memory to the St. Barnabas Free Care Fund in the enclosed yellow envelope.
